

Lessons Learned in Higher Education: Sexual Misconduct Around the World

The U.S., the U.K., China, Australia, France... everyone is grappling with what to do as reports of campus sexual misconduct increase. This webinar will be presented by a panel with decades of experience who advise institutions of higher education in the US with programs abroad.

Our experts from across the US will address:

- The types of conduct being reported: Sexual harassment & sexual assault
 - What is driving the increased reporting?
- Prevention strategies: Some things are required for compliance, some things actually work
 - Which is which?
- Formulating an effective response:
 - What to do when the organization receives a report:
 - Who should be involved?
 - What should happen versus what actually happens?
 - Anonymous complaints, third-hand reports, claims from prior employees and students, decades-old conduct and other challenges
 - What is the institution's legal obligation?
- Specific issues in higher education:
 - Dealing with power: senior administrators, faculty, and coaches accused of sexual misconduct
 - Does Title IX apply to international locations of U.S. institutions?
